

The Republican party, is the political party of progress and intelligence in this country. It is opposed to frauds and shams. It demands that there shall be the utmost freedom among all classes of citizens in casting the ballot. It believes in protecting the political as well as the social rights, of every man regardless of color or condition. It maintains that the Government is not strong enough, nor mighty enough, to trample on the rights of the humblest negro in Florida or Louisiana. When frauds, murders and outrages have been committed, on the colored man in the South, and his right to vote for whomsoever he chose has been denied, then the Republican party is in favor of investigation—a full and free investigation, which shall not be tainted by the low partisanship of the Democrats in the House of Representatives. To the end that justice might be done, and that the country might know just how far the Democratic party is implicated in frauds, murders and outrages committed during the Presidential election of 1876, the Republican party demands that all charges, whether they be against Democrats or against Republicans, shall be investigated. The country wants to know the truth and nothing but the truth regarding the alleged frauds, not in Florida and Louisiana merely, but in Mississippi, Alabama, Oregon, New York, and other places. It wants to know all about the attempt in Oregon to bribe one electoral vote, and the bold effort to steal another. It wants to know all about the attempt to bribe certain persons in Florida that the State might be given to Tilden. It wants to know the fullest particulars respecting the intimidations and the daring threats used in that State to compel the colored voters to vote for Samuel J. Tilden. It wants to know the extent of the cold-blooded murders—murders and outrages that would disgrace a country not half so civilized as ours—committed in the various parishes in Louisiana, in the effort to make the defenseless negroes vote the Democratic ticket. It wants to know to what extent intimidations and bulldozing were carried on in certain counties in the State of Mississippi, which are strongly Republican and in which the Republican vote was not cast. It wants to know all about the suspicious cypher dispatches which passed between Tilden's friends concerning the purchase of a Republican electoral at any price. All these are questions regarding which the country deserves more definite knowledge.

How do the Democrats stand on this investigation? They are opposed to investigating the charges made against them for the attempt to steal the Presidency. The action of the Democrats in the House of Representatives for the past two or three days proves their low partisan motives in trying to carry through the House the Potter resolution, and in refusing the amendment of Hale. Potter's is a one-sided affair; that of Hale's covers the whole ground, and asks for an investigation which shall effect both parties, and which shall show up all frauds by whomsoever committed. Until this shall be done, the Democratic resolution should not be adopted.

There is no doubt that this movement of the Democrats is a cunningly devised attempt to unseat President Hayes, and therefore they are opposed to a general investigation. But the Republicans will use all the strength the party can command to defeat the machinations of the Democracy. They propose to have the fullest and the freest investigation possible, or none at all. We doubt the wisdom of throwing the country in a state of excitement and unrest through the confession of such a character as McClain. The Presidential title was settled by the most important Commission ever appointed in the country—a commission created by the votes of the Democratic party in Congress. The action of this Tribunal was to place the Presidential question forever at rest, and both parties promised to abide by the decision. Hayes received the office, and since that time the Democrats have been crying fraud. They propose now on the confession of a political dead beat, to throw the country in disorder, to inflame the passions of the partisans, to break faith with the Republicans who supported the creation of the Electoral Tribunal, and to make the political condition of the country more perplexing and distressing than it was immediately after the election in 1876.

FROST AND FRUIT.

The frost of Saturday and Sunday nights last, seem to have prevailed generally throughout the West, and in some portions of the East. The extent of the damage in the fruit growing sections of the Northwest can hardly be measured, but making estimates from the character of the telegraphic dispatches, we fear that it will prove quite serious. Reports have been received from about twenty counties in Wisconsin, and from all of them the information is received that the frost of Sunday night did more or less damage to the fruit, while the grain virtually escaped harm. In some sections where the thermometer stood 28 degrees above zero early on Monday morning, the fruit crop will be almost a total failure; while in others, the damage will be but partial. Strawberries and grapes are the heaviest sufferers, and the damage sustained will very materially lessen the crop in this State. In the counties in the Northern part of the State, very discouraging reports are received. At Mauston, "gardens are badly injured, and the strawberry crop entirely spoiled." In Waupaca, "ice was made the thickness of an eighth of an inch, completing the work of destruction, killing fruit, strawberries and garden stuff generally." In the Southern tier of counties, the frost was less destructive. It damaged fruit and potatoes to some extent, but the

His Business at the National Capitol—State Claims Before the Interior Department.

MADISON, May 15.—The Legislature adopted several memorials to Congress last winter having reference to swamp lands along the Mississippi river, in this State. Governor Smith is in Washington consulting with the Secretary of the Interior and Land Commissioner relative to those and other topics of State interest. Among the matters in which he is there officially interested himself are several claims pending before the Interior Department, involving thirty thousand acres in Lac De Flambeau and Lupoint Indian reservations and several questions relative to the State swamp and school lands. The Governor will return within five or six days.

A DEAD-LOCK.

The Attempted Revolution—What Transpired in Yesterday's Session of the House—The Republicans Continue the Dead-Lock.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—When the House met at 11 o'clock to-day both parties were on hand in full force, and the dead-lock was resumed. The session lasted only about an hour and a half, most of the time being occupied with calling the roll. There was the best of feeling on both sides, and considerable wit indulged in. The Democrats could not muster more than 130 votes to-day, which is seventeen less than they want, and they do not now expect to get more before Saturday when all pairs will expire. Then they claim they will have a quorum, but the Republicans will be able still to prevent a vote, unless Potter yields before that time and allows amendments to be offered to his resolution and an opportunity to debate. It is expected that the dead-lock will continue until about the middle of next week, when the Democrats will yield, and permit Hale's amendment and such others as may be offered to be voted upon and allow two or three hours on each side for debate.

As soon as the House adjourned to-day, the Republicans held a caucus. As it was announced from the Clerk's desk the Democrats raised a shout of laughter, as they expected that the Republicans were tired, and wanted to arrange terms of surrender, but the result of the caucus was entirely different. It was called to order by Mr. Hale, who is a regular caucus chairman, and General Garfield stated the object of the meeting to be consideration of plans for future action. After a brief conference they reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the resolution now pending in the House is an attempt, in a form unjustifiable and illegal, to reopen the question solemnly settled by the action of the Forty-fourth Congress, which alone had jurisdiction, and therefore revolutionary and destructive of the good order, business prosperity, and peace of the country.

Resolved, That the efforts of the Democratic party to force upon the House, without opportunity for amendment or debate, a measure of such a revolutionary character, which has not been recommended or considered by any of its committees, but has been devised by individuals for private or party ends, should be resisted by all means which are authorized by the rules of the House.

POLITICAL.

The Pennsylvania Republicans—What They Did—Harmony and Enthusiasm—An Old-Time Republican Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 15.—In point of harmony and enthusiasm the Republican Convention held in the Opera House here to-day was fully in keeping with the spirit of the party throughout the State. It was a real old-time convention, with no jealous factions to interpose with inharmonious actions; no bickering, no petty quarreling; the men composing it were alive to the fact that on them depended the preservation of the party, inasmuch as it need expect no support from the national administration, and they put forth their best efforts. As foreshadowed in last night's dispatch, the candidates nominated are as follows:

Governor—Henry M. Hoyt, of Luzerne. Lieutenant Governor—Charles W. Stone, of Warren. Judge of the Supreme Court—James P. Sierrett, of Allegheny. Secretary of Internal Affairs—Aaron P. Dunkel, of Philadelphia.

Senator Dunkel, on the tail end of the ticket, is a compliment to Philadelphia, which is always counted on for a good sound Republican majority in State elections.

The platform, as given last night, was

GENERAL ITEMS.

Good Friday is so religiously enforced and observed in London that no mail leaves the city morning, noon for night for any part of the Kingdom.

The Parisian Gas Company made $5,805,000 last year. After handing $1,670,000 over to the city, it declared a dividend of 14 1/2 per cent.

It is said that President Hayes had his belief in the Bible shaken a little when he was informed that it was not written by an Ohio man.—Burlington Hawkeye.

The American Tract Society has distributed 74,000,000 of tracts within a year.

Alexander H. Stephens got lost in the United States Senate chamber a few days ago. After a long search, he was found seated in David Davis' chair.

Between November, 1871, and the present date, a period of six and one-half years, no less than twenty-one savings banks in the city of New York have been declared insolvent.

It matters not what sort of a dog a man may be leading home by a string. It may be a black-and-white dog, or a brindle bull pup, yet he always says with pride that the dog is half black and tan.—New York Herald.

A German farmer disputed his tax bill. He said: "I pay the State tax the county tax, and the school tax; but, by tan, I pay no total tax. I got no total, and I never had any."—Boston Traveler.

Stammerers in France are said to number 125 persons to every 130,000 of the population. This computation is based on the enlistment returns, from which it appears that about 1,000 persons are annually rejected as army recruits, on account of stammering.

Twelve years ago a thief hired a horse of a lively stable in Natick, Massachusetts, and the owner did not see man nor beast again until recently when they entered the village. They looked older, but were recognized. The thief claimed that he was on his way to return the horse, but his explanation was not accepted.

Forty years ago the first steamship that crossed the Atlantic left New York. There are scientific persons yet alive who scoffed at the idea of transatlantic steamship navigation, one Boston gentleman going so far as to offer to eat the first boat propelled by steam that would cross the ocean. It is now stated whether or not he kept his generous offer, but it is pretty certain that if he should undertake to get away with the steam fleet of the present day he would have an exceedingly lively meal.

An invitation is issued to all writers of every nationality to attend the sessions of the literary congress at Paris, which will be held every other day from the 14th to the 15th of June. The honorary presidents of the Societe des Gens de Lettres, Baron Taylor, Francis Wey, Jules Simon, Paul de Musset, and others, will assist. M. Victor Hugo as president of the congress, with Edmund About as acting president.

Fortunes in Florida from orange-growing are made as easily, on paper, as cities are built by companies on suburban farms. A Mr. Dewhurst thus glowingly calculates what his income will be: He has a 400-acre farm at Piney Point, and has just planted it with eighty-four quarts of orange seed, which are expected to produce 430,000 trees. If they bear 5,000 oranges each annually, he will have 2,150,000 oranges which, at the low price of 2 cents each, would give an income of $43,000,000.

A Big Girl.

The giant Captain Bates is a mite in comparison with an eighteen-year-old girl living in Florida, who is nine and a half feet tall, lacking a quarter of an inch, and weighs 643 pounds. Her father has become a bankrupt through his endeavors to provide her with food.

A Tranquil Nervous System.

Can never be possessed by those whose digestive and assimilative organs are in a state of chronic disorder. Weak stomachs make weak nerves. To restore vigor and quietude to the latter, the first must be invigorated and regulated. The ordinary sedatives may tranquilize the nerves for a while, but they can never, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, remove the causes of nervous debility. That superb invigorant and corrective of disordered conditions of the alimentary organs has also the effect of imparting tone to the nerves. The delicate tissues of which they are constituted, when weakened in consequence of imperfect digestion, resulting from imperfect digestion and assimilation, draw strength from the fund of vitality developed in the system by the Bitters, which imparts the required impetus to the nutritive functions of the stomach, enriches the circulation, and gives tone and regularity to the secretive and excretory organs.

FULTON.

—Last week a new organ took the place of the old one in the Congregational church.

—Corn planting is about finished.

—Miss Jennie Coon, formerly of Fulton, is teaching school in Porter.

—Fulton is besieged by fishermen both on the Catfish and Rock river, so that one may average it at two men for each fish caught.

—Some of our wise writers, in writing about the wheat crop, estimates the yield of the growing crop at fourteen bushels per acre. We think he might get better employment estimating the number of days Prof. Rice gets right in his weather predictions.

—Although the market for tobacco is very discouraging the usual acreage will be set out, plants being very plenty and very early.

—School in Mr. Hubble's district commenced last Monday, Miss Koerber of Porter teaching.

—Farmers are paying from three to five dollars per month less this year than last.

—Those who patronized the Fulton creamery here without exception again contracted their milk as well as a great many others.

—Last week the bulkhead at White Brothers, mill was washed out, doing great damage. The people turned out and worked until midnight putting in a collar dam to save greater loss. Five hundred dollars will not cover their loss.

—Captain Isaac Miles was purchasing tobacco last week. He purchased Wm. Fox's crop at 5 cents.

Gentle Lies and Shams.

From the Washington Capital.

There is one fact very amusing to the cynical lookers-on at the national capital. This is the gorgeous and costly raiment which the male and female Jenkins make their favorites wear. It is all pure invention. We know a little modest, bright-eyed girl who read a description of herself in a journal one morning shortly after her appearance in Washington, and was first amazed and then chagrined at the account, thinking the ready writer was making sport of her. She cried over the matter for an hour, refusing to be comforted. The daughter of a newly created official with two gowns—beige, parson, dresses—and a blue village made, she could not comprehend the fact that she wore a real Worth the night before. "The vile wretch," cried a feminine fashionable correspondent, referring thereby to a society woman who had slighted her, "this is my reward for torturing my imagination and tearing up my conscience in making dresses for her—the miserable dowdy!"

THE EAST.

Schouvaloff and the Czar—Nothing Yet Known of the Result—Increased Uneasiness and Alarm at St. Petersburg.

LONDON, May 15.—The Herald correspondent at St. Petersburg telegraphs as follows: "Nothing is known of the result of the interviews between the Czar and Count Schouvaloff, and the most disquieting rumors are current. Every one interprets it according to his hopes and fears, and the absence of authentic information fills the public mind with well-grounded uneasiness. This uneasiness is felt with peculiar force in the palace, where a closer knowledge of the actual facts refutes the hopes and the anxiety deepens from hour to hour. It is thought that if Count Schouvaloff had succeeded in making any impression on the Emperor, some indication of a change would have been visible before now, and the situation may therefore be looked upon as still more unpromising. The Grand Duke Michael returns to the Caucasus in a week, where the Emperor will install himself at Carakos. Count Schouvaloff will leave St. Petersburg for London on Saturday.

New Use For Lighthouses.

Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

The Committee on Lightships held a meeting Saturday afternoon. George Magg submitted a proposition for lighting the city which has the novelty of originality at least. He proposes to erect three lighthouses—one to be placed on Nunnery Hill, one on Coal Hill, and one on Herron Hill,—from which shall be emitted "such a flood of light that, anywhere in Pittsburg or Allegheny, a man could be seen if lying on the pavement on the darkest night. The lights will be so located that a perfect crossing of the beam will be effected, and every light will neutralize the shadows of the other. The lanterns are to be of such an elevation that they overlook the surrounding hills. Each of them will be provided with four lights, and four concave reflectors from six to eight feet wide and from ten to twelve feet high. The reflectors are to be made of copper, heavily plated with silver, the latter to be polished to the highest degree. In speaking of the feasibility of this plan, he mentions Germany, Austria, and France as using white lights to the exclusion of gas. If acceptable Mr. Magg will raise a company of capitalists, who will build and equip lighthouses, guarantee keeper's salaries, and run the concern for seventeen years without cost to the city. What is required of the city amounts to this: All the lamp-posts are to be handed over for the use of the Company, to be fitted up as advertising mediums by means of revolving caskets, and the income to be derived therefrom go into the pockets of speculators. At the termination of the seventeen years the city, on payment of original costs, takes over the whole apparatus. The author admits that each lamp will bring in $500 per year, which will give a total income of $1,150,000 for the same period. If the cities are averse to accepting that proposition, Mr. Magg goes further, and states that he will, for a consideration of $60,000, superintend the erection of his inventions, and send them over freely. He considers the above sum a mere drop in a bucket—considering the immense income receivable in seventeen years." The communication was referred to a subcommittee, composed of Messrs. Keller, Kerr, and Little, to examine and report upon it.

BRIEFLETS.

—Few tramps.
—Anderson's band at All Souls this evening.
—Only one runaway yesterday, and no damage done.
—Don't forget the strawberries at All Souls to-night.
—Will Spang launched his new shell this afternoon. It is a beauty.
—Breakers ahead—house breakers. Lock the doors and bolt the windows.
—Give the ladies of All Souls the benefit of your countenance this evening.
—Mrs. Daggett's art lectures will be worth hearing to-morrow evening at All Souls.
—The funeral services of Mr. Jacob Rosenfeld took place this morning as announced in yesterday's Gazette.
—Mr. Fred Prentice, formerly a druggist in Janesville, and now a resident of Kenosha, is spending a few days in the city.
—Mr. Stephen Delsney, with M. C. Smith & Son, is one of the proudest men in the city to-day—it is a girl of ten pounds and all well.
—Mr. Isaac Farnsworth has something of interest to say in another column concerning the dry-goods business. Read it, and profit thereby.
—Two newboys were seen early this morning on the steps of the Congregational church playing euchre, and sucking cigar-stubs and waiting in vain for customers.
—Burr Robbins presented his team with a new harness to-day, it being that made by Mr. Wm. S. Saddle, of this city, and which took the first premium at the State fair last fall.
—Charles Hutton, of Plymouth, leaves to-day for a trip to old England and will take in the Paris Exposition. Mr. Hutton has been in this county thirty-three years and now returns to old England, his native land.
—A report from Quincy, Illinois, says that Daniel Wilcox, formerly one of the proprietors of the Gazette, of this city, now proprietor of the Quincy Whig, is lying dangerously ill and fears are entertained that he will not recover.
—The President of the Ladies Red Ribbon Club present all officers and members to be present at Eble's hall Saturday at 2 p. m. sharp, for the transaction of important business connected with the work. Remember the time. There will be a public meeting of the club at 3 p. m. Sunday, in the upper rooms, and at 4 p. m. the Band of Hope will meet in the same place.
—Mr. Walter Bennett spent several days in preparing a safe retreat for his rabbits, but in spite of all efforts a dog broke through and stole them away. He thought his stock of rabbits all gone, but yesterday a boy playing around found a litter of little ones snugly concealed low down in the ground where the parents, shrewder than the human kind, had burrowed out a place, and being killed.
—The red-ribbon club met last evening and instructed the Board of Managers to lease of Mr. John Ehle, the first floor of his building on Main street, and the hall above, with the rooms adjoining and the furniture as it is. It is proposed to open there a regular club room for general purposes, and to defray expenses a small per capita tax to be collected of the members of the organization. It will take some little time before all the arrangements are completed.
—An emigrant wagon reached the city this morning, containing a family who are just returning to their home in Dodge county, from whence they went to Texas about two years ago. They have been eight weeks on the road from the southwestern part of Texas. A young lady member of the family accompanied them on the long journey, choosing as her means of transportation a saddle and pony. An eight weeks' horseback ride for a Yankee girl is no small achievement. The travelers say that they have concluded that Wisconsin is a better State than Texas on many accounts.
—To-morrow evening there will be a social and festival at Lippin's hall under the auspices of the First Methodist church. Besides the attractions of strawberries and cream there will be a musical treat. Mr. N. R. Follansbee, Mrs. H. A. Smith, and others will participate. Miss Maggie Jones, a little 3-year-old, will sing, and it is expected that other musical prodigies will appear. Mr. Frank L. Tappan, the taxidermist, has consented to place some of the rarest of his specimens on exhibition, making an interesting cabinet of animals and birds. The officers and leaders of the Congregational, Baptist, Presbyterian and Court Street Methodist churches have been invited as guests of the First Methodist Sunday School, and many of them will doubtless be present. The occasion will be one of social interest. An admission fee of a dime will be charged at the door.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 54 degrees above and at 2 o'clock 66 degrees above. Cloudy. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 63 and 80 degrees above.

DRY GOODS ATTRACTIONS.

Mr. J. M. Bostwick, of the firm of Smith & Bostwick, has returned from New York where he made the season's purchases for the firm. The result of his trip is the arrival of a large number of huge boxes filled with the choicest goods of all descriptions. These are arriving daily, and give unmistakable evidence of the enterprise of this old established firm in complying with the demand of trade in Janesville. The largest and the best houses in New York city were ransacked for goods which are fresh, stylish, attractive and cheap in price. These goods are now being received and are displayed on the shelves of the store. In the line of dress goods, the assortment is large, the styles attractive, the patterns rich and elegant, and the prices marvelously low. In white goods, Smith & Bostwick now have a stock which has never before been surpassed in Janesville, and as to the prices they are astonishing for cheapness. We notice, also, that they have received 100 dozen of ladies' gloves which they sell for one dollar a pair, and which are acknowledged to be as good as the two dollar pair. In the carpet department they have some styles of body and tapestry Brussels, just received, which for quality, elegance of pattern and novelty of design, are truly unsurpassed.

TO HIS MEMORY.

The Janesville Bar Takes Appropriate Action Concerning the Death of Mr. Wm. M. Tallman—The Funeral Services this Afternoon.

A meeting of the Janesville Bar was held this noon at the court house to take appropriate action concerning the death of Mr. Wm. M. Tallman, Judge Conger, the President, in the chair, and Clerk A. W. Baldwin, acting as Secretary.

A committee on resolutions was appointed, who, after a brief retirement, reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

By this sad assemblage of the bar of Rock county, in commemoration of the virtues of a departed brother in the profession, we are reminded that it is appointed unto all men once to die, and after death the judgment.

By the many years, almost three score and ten,—the utmost period allotted to man for his sojourn upon earth, we are emphatically told of the blameless and temperate life of William M. Tallman; but after long waiting, the end at last came to him, as it must in God's appointed time come to each one of us, whether old or young, weak or strong, rich or poor, and it has left us to mourn over our great loss. In the great depth of sorrow we mourn, not as men who mourn without hope. He was ready; in all things prepared to answer the last summons, and put on the great change; he died the death of a just man, having no fears of the future, the full faith in a merciful and just Judge; he has gone to his eternal rest; our mourning, therefore, is tempered by the full and abiding faith, that our loss is his gain, that we have parted with him for a brief period only, soon to meet again in a brighter and a happier land, we follow in his shining path.

William M. Tallman had peculiarities, essentially his own (without peculiarities no man rises above the great mass of mankind) his virtues were many. He was a firm believer in all the principles of the law. If he had an idol it was found here, the law was the measure of his every act through a long life, and while he strictly adhered to and kept the whole law himself, he never tolerated its violation in another; he never was known to defend a client when found in the violation of a recognized law; his conscience would not permit him to do for the law divine and humane was the measure of his conscience.

As a public officer he was economical and careful above most men, he was ever watchful of the public interest—as a man he was just according to the strictest rule of the law.

In memory of his virtues, therefore it is Resolved, That we will assemble at the bar of the Circuit Court of Rock county, at the Court House in Janesville, and move the Court to enter the proceeding of this meeting of the Bar of Rock county in the record of the daily proceedings of the Court, that the Court and all its officers, including the Bar attend his funeral as one body.

Resolved, That in our common sorrow and brotherly love we will wear the badge of mourning of the Bar Association during the usual period of thirty days.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathy in their irreparable loss be and is hereby tendered to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Court be requested to present to the family of our deceased brother an exemplified copy of these proceedings as they appear on the record.

Resolved, That the newspapers of the County of Rock be requested to publish these proceedings.

After the resolutions had been presented Mr. A. Hyatt Smith, the Chairman of the Committee, who was a former partner of Mr. Tallman's, paid a befitting tribute to his character, and was followed by Hon. J. A. Sleeper, now of Chicago, who was also formerly associated with Mr. Tallman, and who also gave an appropriate eulogy.

Hon. J. R. Bennett, B. B. Eldredge, A. A. Jackson, and Judge Conger spoke in like tenor of the merits and character of the deceased, after which adjournment was taken. This afternoon the funeral services took place at the late residence of the deceased and were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Sawin, the pastor of the Congregational church of which Mr. Tallman was an honored member. The large house was well filled with sympathizing friends, and the members of the bar attended in a body. A choir consisting of Mrs. H. A. Smith, Miss Fannie Lynn and Messrs. John Wingate and D. D. Bennett, sang appropriate hymns. Rev. Mr. Sawin made a few touching and appropriate remarks, drawing a comparison from a scene in sacred history, where a prince surrounded by all the luxuries and attractions of Pharaoh's Court still desired to relinquish them, that he might go to his father-land. Thus strong yearning for home was manifested by Mr. Tallman, when he was stricken down by disease abroad, and even after reaching his home in this city, he manifested the Christian yearning to go to the better home beyond the river. To the mourning friends the speaker offered that consolation which comes alone from Christ.

At the close of the services at the house the procession wound its way to the cemetery where the usual services were held.

JACOB ROSENFELD.

The funeral exercises of Jacob Rosenfeld, which took place this morning at 10 a. m., was, we believe the first Jewish funeral ever held in this city. The body lay in the room recently occupied by the deceased, in Church's block, with two wax candles burning at his head. The services in the room were conducted by the venerable Mr. Isaac Hellhorn, of New York, consisting of reading of passages from the Ritual used by Rabbi Einhorn in New York city, and Scripture passages in Hebrew and prayers in German. The exercises at the grave consisted of extracts from the Psalms read by Rev. Jenk L. Jones, followed by a brief address and prayer, after which the body was lowered, and Mr. Isaac Hellhorn led the Hebrews present in a prayer in their own tongue. A word of thanks to the friends who have thus discharged the last sad offices of fraternity to one who fell far from friends and early associates, by the Rev. Mr. Jones, and the dropping of a friendly clod, by the German friends present was all that could be done for one who was a good friend and carried a kind heart.

UNDER THE CANVAS.

Burr Robbins' Circus and Menagerie—The Entertainments Furnished Yesterday.

Burr Robbins more than fulfilled his promises to the public yesterday, by his entertainments, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. The tents on both occasions, and especially in the evening, were crowded with expectant spectators. In the menagerie tent there were a large number of cages containing many rare specimens never seen before in this country, and they were viewed with great interest. Visitors found this feature of the show, surprisingly attractive, and attendants stood ever ready to answer any and all questions, and impart all required information, so that all might be instructed as well as amused.

In the circus tent the same marked superiority over other entertainments was also noticeable. The grand entrance was decidedly novel and inspiring. It is appropriately called the "Uprising of the Arabs," and is participated in by the entire force of the organization. Outside of the circle ladies and gentlemen on horseback, equestrians, pages and knights, form a befitting line of march, while within the circle appear the Arabs and their camels, with all the pageantry of the crescent, and all the vividness of desert life. After this display the Arabs disappear, and the equestrians give a regular circus entrance introducing many new movements hereafter.

Prof. Brooks then introduces the wonderful performing elephants "Mogul" and "Cleopatra" who display their intelligence and training to good advantage. Fred O'Brien, the acknowledged champion of the world, leads in an extraordinary leaping exhibition. King Sambo, the Japanese performer on the tight rope, who makes his wonderful slide for life, being backwards on his feet from the top of the center pole to the edge of the ring. Miss Sally Marks, a mere child, shows wonderful skill as an equestrienne, while Pete Conklin, the well-known clown, keeps up a sharp, running fire of wit and humor. The O'Brien children show themselves at home on the double trapeze. Van Zandt, as the bounding jockey, presents a feature entirely original with him, and one in which he has no equal. Lem Munson, the contortionist, twists himself into as many shapes as if he was of rubber. Mile. Marretta is a perfect wonder on the trapeze, especially her balancing, and maintaining equilibrium in difficult positions. Miss Minnie Marks, in her display of equestrianism, showed herself an artist, and was greeted with cheers for her horseback riding. Pete Conklin kept her company with a rich feast of mirth. The entire male portion of the company gave a fine exhibition of tumbling. Miss O'Brien, walked the slack-wire as she alone can. King Sambo, with naked feet climbed a ladder the rungs of which were sabers ground sharp enough to cut paper. Van Zandt appeared in a fine four-horse act. The performance closed with a wonderful exhibition of Prof. Sannell's troupe of performing dogs and monkeys, which did feats apparently impossible.

The entertainment met fully the expectations of all, and Mr. Robbins' merits crowded tents wherever he may pitch them. He left this morning for Beloit.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

A Verdict of $200 for Defamation of Character—An Interesting Horse Suit.

In the slander suit brought up by Mary Harlow against Ward Witham for damages for words spoken in defamation of her character, the jury this morning returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $200. The jury had an all night session of it, and looked quite exhausted this morning.

Henry D. McKimney against S. J. Goodwin, of Beloit, was on trial to-day. The plaintiff claims that the defendant, as President of the Beloit Driving Association, promised to pay a certain premium to the fastest horses entered for an exhibition of speed at Beloit. After the race the defendant declined to pay the premium, although the plaintiff's horse had won it according to the conditions of the race. There being no legally incorporated Beloit Driving Association, the plaintiff seeks to hold the defendant individually liable. There is little dispute about the facts, the case turning mainly on the law. After the close of the plaintiff's testimony, a motion for a non-suit was made, and the questions of law involved were thereupon learnedly and ably argued to the Court by Ogden H. Fethers, Esq., for the plaintiff, and John R. Bennett Esq., for the defense. The decision on the motion for non-suit will be rendered to-morrow morning, and will eventually dispose of the case.

DAYLIGHT CRACKSMEN.

The Thieves Make a Raid on Residences in the Suburbs, but Secure Only Small Plunder—No Arrests as Yet.

Yesterday Mr. Ezra Dillenbeck, of the town of Harmony, who lives about two miles from this city, was attending to his duties, as assessor, in the eastern part of the town, and his wife and daughter were in this city, leaving the house unprotected. Thieves took advantage of this absence of the family to break through and steal. They ransacked the house from top to bottom, not leaving a nook or a corner unsearched. Even a bag of rags was emptied, and a boy's pistol found in the bottom of it. Besides other plunder there was taken a revolver, a set of knives and forks, spoons, jewelry and two or three dollars in change, making a loss in all of about $30. Mr. Ferguson, who lives in the second ward, in this city passed by the place in the afternoon and near there met two suspicious looking characters, walking along the road. The same characters were seen by other parties in that vicinity and it is probable that the officers may secure a trace of the thieves sufficiently marked to secure their arrest.

ANOTHER HOUSEBREAKING.

Thieves made a raid yesterday on the residence of Mr. Charles Moore, who lives about five miles north of the city, on what is known as the Carhart farm. The family were absent at the time, and the house was completely overhauled, but the fellows helped themselves only to such articles as jewelry and money, of which they secured only a small amount. Every drawer and trunk was carefully searched, and the contents of the house left strewn about in confusion.

HYMENEAL.

A quiet and unostentatious wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Joslyn, in the first ward, the contracting parties being their daughter, Miss Lizzie L. Joslyn and Mr. Phillip M. Pryor, author and proprietor of the Waupun Times. A number of relatives from Waupun were present, besides the relatives here, and a few intimate friends, who assembled in the parlors at about six o'clock. Shortly after, the contracting parties entered the room, and a brief and impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Sharp, of Waupun. After the usual extension of congratulations to the newly-wedded ones, the guests partook of refreshments, and indulged in a brief season of sociability. The happy party left on the evening train for their new home in Waupun. Miss Joslyn was born in Janesville, and has always made this her home, and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances who extend to her their heartiest well-wishes. Mr. Pryor is well known as a journalist in this State, and is the recipient of no less hearty congratulations. A large number of beautiful gifts were received from friends, and the occasion throughout was a joyous one.

APPLETON'S JOURNAL.

The June number of Appleton's Journal is placed upon the Gazette table. It contains another article in the interesting series of "The American at Work," by W. H. Rideing, it being a history of a silver dollar. Rev. P. D. Hay contributes an article on "South Carolina Relics." Susan Fenimore Cooper presents the first of her "Otsego Leaves." C. P. Cranch gives an essay on "Old Foggies." "Nathalie's Romance," is the title of a short story from the pen of Christian Reid. "The Saalburg Ruins," from the pen of Henry W. Raymond is an interesting article. Wm. Minn turns commences a series on "French Writers and Artists," and H. M. Robinson presents a reminiscence of Socrates. Choice poems, and continuations of novels, the editor's table, and the review of books of the day, make the number replete with interesting and instructive reading, made still more attractive by numerous illustrations.

THANKS.

Mr. Fred M. Pauly, partner of the late Jacob Rosenfeld, desires on behalf of the deceased to return thanks to Rev. Jenk L. Jones, and Mr. Isaac Hellhorn and all other kind friends, for their aid and sympathy.

EXQUISITE PLEASURE.

The most exquisite pleasure is derived from Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes. His Alister Bouquet, Sweet Clover, Ladies' Favorite, and other handkerchief odors, are as fragrant and natural as the flowers from which they are made. They are truly delightful.

LOCAL MATTERS.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House New York City. sep17deodwly

A Remarkable Remedy.

It makes no difference how many physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Disease. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To all such we would say that 50,000 doctored were sold last year without one complaint. Consultative try just one bottle. Regard your life as precious. Sold by all druggists in America. decided-15-906wfm

A Pardonable Pride.

Promptly most people to delay, by any laudable means that science affords, the evidences of natural decay. Who that is in perfect health would not match the bright eye, the active mind, and other appearances of youthful vigor, with the luxuriance, the rich color and beauty of youthful hair? Parker's Hair Balsam stands pre-eminent as an elegant hair-dressing, and by its healthful action on the roots not only promotes a luxuriant growth of the young hair, but unfailingly restores gray or faded hair to the original youthful color, giving a soft, rich and lustrous appearance of great beauty. No other preparation so effectually removes dandruff or stops falling of the hair; its cooling and healing action entirely curing itching and humors of the scalp, and keeping the skin clean, white and healthy. It is perfectly harmless, elegantly perfumed, and contains nothing that will soil the skin or gum the hair. It is not a dye, and is unequalled for excellence and purity. Buy a bottle from your druggist. A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. ap14wacovtilljan9

The New York Bulletin of Saturday says: Seven steamers compose the transatlantic fleet; applied to leave here to-day for ports in Europe, and their united cargoes swell up to goodly proportions. The grain shipments alone are much beyond the average, amounting in the aggregate over 300,000 bushels, while of flour there is more than 5,000 barrels stowed away. The products of the dairy are also well represented, and there is good supply of fresh meat. A hint of the preparations for war is noticeable in the export of 185 bags of copper to Germany, and which are supposed to be for the manufacture of percussion caps, etc. There are also a number of horses going to England, which are probably intended for the British cavalry service. The arts of peace are represented in the shipment of 25 hay-rakes and 50 reapers to Germany, and 50 mules for Glasgow, Waver, for Bremen; Ostrants, for Hull, and Aragon, for Bristol.
